Training Scheduling & Resource Management

Deliver more live training for less, at scale, with Training Orchestra Training Management System

Most organizations have the best LMS, but still rely on manual processes and spreadsheets to manage scheduling and operations for their instructor-led and vILT training. With 70% of the training investment typically allocated to live training, optimizing training operations at scale is critical.

The solution? Training Orchestra Training Management System (TMS), a back-office software designed to turn manual processes into automated workflows and reduce live training costs. Training Orchestra TMS delivers smooth operations for any training organization and every training audience, whether you're skilling your employees, customers, partners or members.
